Prince to King Mentor Program History

The Prince to King Mentor Program was developed out of the admiration and love a mother has for her son. As Bobbie T. Jordan admired the growth and accomplishments of her young prince and thanked the King of Kings for such a blessing, she worried about what challenges life would bring him and what tools he would need to live a healthy, happy, spiritually strong and successful life. As she pondered this circumstance, she started to write notes of things she could expose him to in order to enrich his life, entice positive decision making, be educational and fun, and motivate him to be independent and to flourish. Upon review of her notes, she knew the list would never be complete, so she vowed – “Every morning when I wake, I shall first thank God for a new day, and every day I shall think of things I must do to help prepare my son to become the king growing inside of him.”

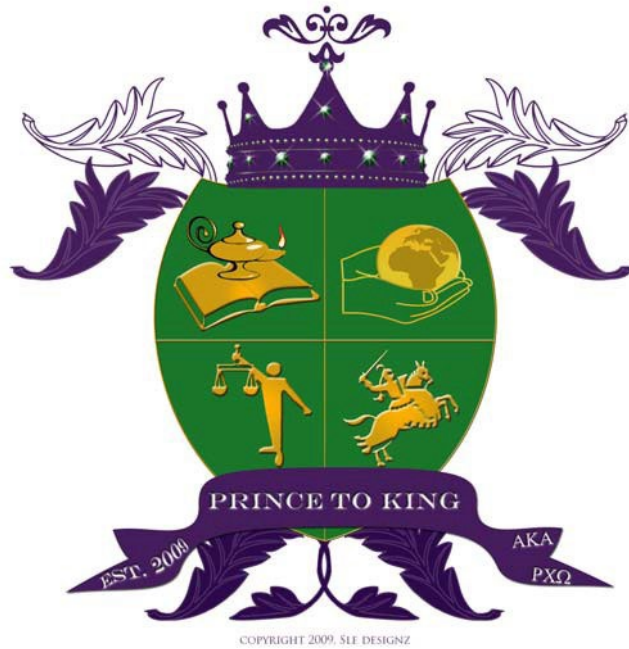

On this journey Bobbie T. Jordan realized that her son was not the only prince in the land that required mentoring and guidance. The members of Rho Chi Omega Chapter listened intently as the proposal was presented and accepted the challenge to develop the “Prince to King Mentor Program.” In September of 2009, the trumpet was sounded, and the members of Rho Chi Omega Chapter went out into the land to rally each prince, and a new tradition was instituted.

The program is designed to motivate, educate, and encourage positive growth in young men in grades 3 through 8 by exposing them to positive community/world leaders, cultural, entertaining and educational activities through enrichment workshops. The participants are distinguished by three royal groups: Noblemen (Grades 3-4), Aristocrats (Grades 5-6), and Knights (Grades 7-8).

The program has a standing theme and motto, respectively: “The King in Me” and “Every morning when I wake, I shall first thank God for a new day. Every day I shall think: Today I must do something to prepare myself to be KING.”

The experiences, lessons, friendship, self-esteem, and chivalry acquired by participating in this program are part of the tool set that the sorority seeks to help develop in each participant and will hopefully carry through in some phase of their development.

Prince to King Mentor Program Coat of Arms

The coat of arms has been prepared as a reminder of the skill set of a kingly man. Participants are to refer to it as a compass for their sense of purpose, a symbol of a brotherhood shared with other royal men.

The coat of arms is topped with a Crown to signify their place in society.
The Shield/Breast Plate shall protect them from all hurt, harm and danger.
The Wings shall give them flight and carry them to places beyond your wildest dreams.
The Legs allow them to stand and remain balanced during their toughest challenges.

The breast plate bears four symbols:

- ◆ Book and Lamp of Knowledge – EDUCATION and KNOWLEDGE are important
- ◆ Clasped Hands and Globe – Signifying COMMUNITY and SERVICE
- ◆ Man of Justice and Scale of Law – Signifying LEADERSHIP and EQUALITY
- ◆ Mounted Knight – Signifying CHIVALRY (proper etiquette and manners)

The coat of arms will remind each participant to be just in their dealings, to protect their future and that of their fellow man.

The coat of arms was developed in a collaborative effort between Bobbie T. Jordan, Susan L. Eason, and Cheryl K. Johnson. All graphic design elements were created by Susan L. Eason.

Program Overview

THEME “The King in Me”

MOTTO

“Every morning when I wake, I shall first thank God for a new day. Every day I shall think: Today I must do something to prepare myself to be KING.”

VISION

The Prince to King Mentor Program is designed to motivate, educate, and entice positive growth in young men in grades 3 through 8 by exposing them to positive community/world leaders, cultural, entertaining and educational activities through enrichment workshops. PROGRAM COLORS

Purple (imperial, royal, or other high rank)- Purple is the color of good judgment. It is the color of people seeking spiritual fulfillment. It is said if you surround yourself with purple, you will have peace of mind. Purple is a good color to use in meditation.

Green is the color of nature. It symbolizes growth, harmony, freshness, and fertility. Green has strong emotional correspondence with safety. Dark green is also commonly associated with money.

Prince to King Participant Code of Conduct

Purpose of the Code of Conduct

The Prince to King Code of Conduct establishes standards of conduct and identify the circumstances under which a participant may be removed or excluded from an activity or removed from the Prince to King program.

The Code provides information to parents and participants regarding expectations for behavior, consequences of misconduct, and procedures for administering discipline.

Each participant and parent/guardian must sign the Participant Code of Conduct to be able to participate in the Prince to King Mentor Program.

Standards of Participant Conduct

The Prince to King program is committed to the rights of participants. In addition, the program has detailed certain expectations (responsibilities) regarding participant behavior that, when adopted by participants, affect a positive influence on the program and program participants. A proper balance between rights and responsibilities is essential if the program provides the kinds of educational experiences that promote self-responsibility and enhance educational opportunities for all participants.

Five standards of participant conduct are offered as a guideline. These standards assert that responsible participants should be encouraged and taught to:

1. Exercise self-control.
 - a. Use courteous language.
 - b. Resolve conflict in a mature manner.
 - c. Be appropriately dressed and groomed.
 - d. Demonstrate a positive attitude.
2. Take a leadership role.
 - a. Be polite.
 - b. Be cooperative.
3. Respect the rights and feelings of others.
 - a. Behave in a manner that does not disrupt others.
 - b. Treat others with courtesy and respect (i.e., put oneself in the place of the other person, whether that person is another participant, teacher, presenter, community person, committee members, or any other person on site.)

4. Take responsibility for program property.
 - a. Respect the building, grounds, and property.
 - b. Keep the site free from trash.
5. Support the learning process.
 - a. Attend and participate in all workshops and activities regularly and on time.
 - b. Be prepared for workshops (i.e., bring assignments, notebooks, and supplies).
 - c. Listen carefully to instructions.
 - d. Participate in program activities.

The Program plan is to promote positive participant conduct in conjunction with the site/workshop rules to maintain order in the program, foster a climate of mutual respect for the rights of others, and teach participants that they are responsible for conducting themselves in a manner appropriate to their age and level of maturity.

Expectations for Participant Behavior

Each participant is expected to:

1. Demonstrate courtesy and respect for others, even when others do not.
2. Behave in a responsible manner, always exercising self-discipline.
3. Attend all workshops/activities, regularly and on time.
4. Be prepared for each workshop; take appropriate materials and assignments to workshops.
5. Be well-groomed and dressed appropriately.
6. Obey all site and program rules.
7. Respect the rights and privileges of other participants and of presenters and other program committee members.
8. Respect the property of others, including program property and facilities.
9. Cooperate with or assist the program staff in maintaining safety, order, and discipline.
10. Participants must be signed in and out by an adult.

Prohibited Conduct and Disciplinary Consequences

In imposing discipline, the Program Chairman or Co-Chairman will consider:

1. The seriousness of the offense.
2. The participant's age.
3. The participant's attitude.
4. The potential effect of the misconduct on the program environment.
5. Whether the participant was defending himself.
6. Intent or lack of intent at the time of the conduct.
7. Participants will be removed from the program with repeated misconduct.
8. Parents/guardians will be required to immediately pick up participant if called for misconduct.
9. Participants expelled from the program for repeated misconduct or major violation of the code of conduct will not receive a refund.

Personal Enrichment Workshops

The workshops will expose participants to activities that will focus on self-esteem, manners, etiquette, social skills, bullying, social media, team building, oratorical skills and being a Black male in the world today. Workshops and activities are listed in the Calendar of Events section of the handbook.

In addition to attending the workshops, each participant is required to keep a “Workshop Notebook” of his “Prince to King” experience. The sorority will provide the notebook. The participant introduces himself with a favorite photograph. Any information received from the workshops will be put in the notebook. Each participant is encouraged to take notes during the workshops.
